Vision

Build a mechanical interface to the real world environment and migrate conventional access control hardware to the cloud. Replace hardware keys and cards with software. A new eco system with modern tools, features and unlimited inter-connectivity will be the result.

Product

BECKON a modern access control solution for high scale environments. Our focus is efficient user onboarding and a responsive user experience. The smartphone becomes the digital key. The authorization process is in the cloud and inter-connectivity options are unlimited.

Compatible with all doors and gates.

Convenient

Your operation center is the BECKON management portal. You can onboard new users within a few clicks - and some keystrokes. There you also manage their permissions on devices, groups, newsletters, messages, memberships, contracts, registration forms and much more. It is a cloud platform with modern software possibilities.

Reliable

Our cloud infrastructure is distributed within US-jurisdiction and our hardware devices have embedded connectivity. Our main innovation is the closed-loop communication with the smartphone app. We tolerate the loss of connectivity for devices by design, which makes BECKON extremely robust while remaining real-time.

Always

BECKON was designed from the ground up to be maintenance-free and features full monitoring and an escalation system, but when mechanical disruptions occur or when you require assistance with the operation of any kind, then we are immediately at your disposal - 24/7.

Your ultimate solution for access control.

BECKON onboarding

Our hardware devices are shipped with operator-independent connectivity and are ready-to-use on arrival. Within the onboarding process we coordinate the installation with your local electrician and/or locksmith and provide a full training to get you fully operational. After a test phase of one week we then assist you with the onboarding of all your existing users. BECKON remains fully extensible at all times.

Promise

We have envisioned, how access control should be like in the future. Then we took action and brought our vision to life. Seeing our product in many, happy hands turns our efforts into the satisfying feeling of accomplishment, which drives us even more to continue moving the industry forward.
